

Central Ohio Farmers Market Seasonal Calendar

Use this to shop what’s actually good — not what’s been on a truck for a week. Hours and vendors change; confirm before you drive.

How to use

- 1. Circle what’s in peak season this month.
- 2. Pick one market type (neighborhood · downtown · suburban).
- 3. Fill the weekly worksheet so you don’t overbuy.

Seasonal peaks (Central Ohio — typical)

Month	Usually excellent
April-May	Asparagus, greens, radishes, rhubarb, herbs
June	Strawberries, peas, early zucchini, lettuce
July	Blueberries, beans, cucumbers, summer squash, tomatoes start
August	Tomatoes, sweet corn, peppers, peaches, melons
September	Apples, pears, grapes, late tomatoes, squash begins
October	Apples, pumpkins, winter squash, root veggies, greens return
Nov-Mar	Storage crops, greenhouse greens, pantry staples, meat/eggs/baked goods

Market types (pick a starting point)

Type	Good for	Example pattern
Neighborhood Saturday	Walking + small bags	Clintonville / GV-style markets
Downtown / large weekend	One-stop variety	North Market + nearby stalls / seasonal markets
Suburban lot markets	Parking + bulk	Outer-belt weekend markets
Farm stands / CSAs	Consistency	Prepay boxes; less browsing

Storage quick tips

- Greens: dry, sealed, cold — wash when you use
- Berries: don't wash until eating; cold ASAP
- Tomatoes: counter until ripe (fridge dulls flavor)
- Herbs: jar of water on the counter or wrapped cold — test what lasts for you
- Corn: cook same day when you can

Bring list
